

Hungate Garden Project

Another Monday afternoon with year 5 in the garden. They have now planted the raised beds with vegetable and salad crops. Some have spilled over into the flower beds, which is no bad thing.

The bug hotels have just about been completed, despite one rather large spider already in residence. There is one in a sunny spot and one in the shade to suit all needing a home.

We also had a session making bird feeders from a plastic bottle, a barbecue skewer and a bit of old garden wire.

There was a working session last Sunday. We have had a generous donation of some pond plants – oxygenating pond weed, yellow iris and water mint. Some have gone into the pond and some into the boggy area. Before and after pics. We still need some more plants!

We also weeded another of the large beds and planted a few more perennials.

Again, before and after pics.

The final job was to top up the pond!

It may not be quite as impressive as the 'Welcome to Yorkshire' show garden at Chelsea, but if only we had their budget!!

There is still more to do, so we are planning a working morning on Sunday 26th May, 10 till 1. All help gratefully received.

Many thanks,
